

Study Deafness Rehabilitation in London This Summer

Graduate Study Abroad Program in Deafness Rehabilitation Leading to the M.A., Ed.D., or Ph.D. Degree/July-August 1984-8 weeks.

This program is designed to provide educators, rehabilitation personnel, audiologists, and speech pathologists an opportunity to study educational theories, techniques, and new approaches now being used in England to meet the educational and rehabilitation needs of deaf persons, especially the multiply disabled.

Classes, with world-renowned leaders in the deafness field as instructors, are coordinated with conferences, research, and visits to clinics, schools, and other relevant educational settings.

Courses are offered in the following areas: linguistics of language development in hearing-impaired children, deafness and human behavior, cross-cultural issues in deafness, and fieldwork.

Total tuition for 12 credits is $1,500. Assistance for housing and travel arrangements will be provided.

For further information and an application, call or write:

School of Education, Health,
Nursing, and Arts Professions
New York University
60 Press Building, Washington Square
New York, N. Y. 10003
(212) 598-2153
Attn.: Office of Summer Sessions,
Overseas and Special Programs

New York University is an affirmative action/equal opportunity institution.

The University of Arkansas Rehabilitation Research and Training Center on Deafness & Hearing Impairment Announces

A new Masters-Level Degree Program in Rehabilitation Counseling With Emphasis in Deafness

The University of Arkansas offers outstanding resources such as:

- A distinguished faculty with extensive expertise and experience in deafness rehabilitation.
- A broad curriculum combining generic knowledge and skills of rehabilitation with specialized knowledge and skills in deafness.
- Preliminary certification through the Council on Rehabilitation Education (CORE).
- An opportunity to participate in research and demonstration programs conducted by the Research and Training Center on Deafness.

For information contact: Sue E. Ouellette, Ph.D.
Project Director
Counseling With Emphasis in Deafness Program
4601 W. Markham Street
Little Rock, AR 72205
(501) 371-1654 voice or TTY

All programs are open to students on a full or part-time basis. Individuals who are physically disabled and/or members of ethnic minority groups are encouraged to apply. Traineeships are available.